YouBestow.com is a business to consumer social network that revolves around product and service referrals. YouBestow.com empowers individual consumers to generate revenue, by recommending products and services to friends. And the site offers advertisers a highly targeted marketing vehicle that takes into account consumers' tendency to favor products and services recommended by trusted acquaintances.

YouBestow.com leverage powerful "refer a friend" marketing technique. The site enables companies to attract customers by leveraging the influence of trusted acquaintances in the purchasing process.

On YouBestow.com, members can earn cash and other rewards from merchants by recommending products and services to friends.

Businesses are provided with an exceptionally effective, efficient means of reaching consumers. Companies have long been aware that product and service recommendations from family and friends – any trusted acquaintances – are considered far more credible than advertising, and therefore far more likely to result in sales.

Social networking will be central to the YouBestow.com experience. In addition to the lead referral system-related features, YouBestow.com will encompass an extensive array of features and capabilities associated with social networking. Unlike other social networks, YouBestow.com offers members the opportunity to profit from their online activities. That ability should be especially attractive during challenging economic times.

YouBestow provides a centralized destination with powerful tools for consumers to consult with their most trusted sources – acquaintances – when making purchasing decisions.
